PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Happy New Year everyone. 2017 was another awesome year of travel, meeting new friends and spending time with some old ones too. For us, the RV lifestyle provides the right mix of spending the winter in sunny Florida and traveling in the motorhome during the summer. I hope you had another awesome Christmas and Hanukkah. I was able to visit my son in Mooresville, NC just before Christmas and enjoyed a long weekend with the older Grandchildren. Christmas day we had all the Florida kids over to the house to enjoy dinner and watch the Grandkids go crazy. The Grandkids ages 8, 5 and 3 got the iPod Touch with Facetime. (Yes, yes, yes, they are spoiled. ☺ ) Now they can call us anytime they want without bugging their mother. Before Christmas, the 3 year old would find her mother's iPad, find my picture and call me. She wouldn't say much of anything, she would just laugh. Now I hear from her almost every day and boy can she talk. Got to LOVE it. Enough about the grandkids.

2018 will be another fun filled year. Chapter 29 continues to grow and we have the Spring Rally in April in Dillard, GA at River Vista RV Resort. This will be the chapter's second visit and it is a great resort with a heated and air conditioned rec hall. We will also elect a new President and Secretary. As I said last year, I do not plan to run again and will not accept a nomination. It is time for some new blood. If you are interested in running for either office, please contact our Vice President Steve Gerner at [REDACTED] before the rally.

ACRE – For the new people, the Escapees have one national rally per year called an Escapade and two regional rallies, one on the west coast and the other on the east coast. The west coast rally is called WARE and the east coast one is called ACRE. WARE and ACRE are held in April each year. Several members of Chapter 29 are also officers with ACRE and I am the President. The ACRE steering committee agreed to not hold a rally in 2018 and take the time to regroup and find a new location. The 2019 ACRE will be held in Pine Mountain, GA in late April. More information will be coming out soon.

As we all age, some of our members hit some bumps in the road. Please keep them in your thoughts and prayers.

Steve Masterson
President

Awesome Christmas Present

Just when you think things can't get any better, Steve and I gave each other an awesome Christmas present this year. We traded our Holiday Rambler in for a 2008 Tiffin Allegro Bus. Stay tuned for its "unveiling" at the Spring Rally!

..And Now a Word from our VP

The Christmas trees are down, New Years celebrations are over and now we sit in front of the fireplace dreaming about the coming warmth of spring and the upcoming camping season. Full-timers may be hiding in Florida, or other warm places, but we part-time Georgians are subject to the cold right now.

We'd like to invite everyone to join us for the Spring Rally at River Vista Mountain Village from April 19th through the 22nd. Call the campground at 706-746-2722 to make a reservation. Be sure to let them know that you are with Escapees Chapter 29, the Carolina Rovers, then please let your hosts, Connie & Bruce Long [REDACTED] and Mariann & Steve Gerner [REDACTED] know of your intentions.

Dillard, GA, has something for almost everyone. Horseback riding? The Dillard House Stables are for you. Fishing? Andy's Trout Farm. Hiking? Wayah Bald near Franklin, NC is about 30 miles away on the Appalachian and Bartram Trails. Dining out? Dillard has several small restaurants. There are other attractions including Anna Ruby Falls (near Helen, GA) and Helen, GA for the shoppers. A Wal-Mart in Clayton, GA is a great place to buy items that you've forgotten or on which you need to stock up.

Temperatures in Dillard for this time of year run around 45 degrees at night and 75 degrees during the day. You'll want to bring warmer clothing than what was required for the fall rally in Charleston!

We hope to see everyone in Dillard this April.

Steve Gerner #94654
Vice-President

Newsletter Editor's Note

So if you're not cooking for the family on Thanksgiving - then what do you do? Well...In our case we packed up and headed South. We stayed at a little campground in Conway, South Carolina, just south of Myrtle Beach called Bucksport Marina right off the Intercoastal Waterway. Now if you're expecting a lot of entertainment and things to do, you're in the wrong campground. It's a very small place but the sites are very roomy with FHU. Just a short walk will find you on the dock overlooking the intercoastal waterway and the peace and quiet is wonderful. The staff, who was very friendly, sponsored a Thanksgiving day buffet complete with turkey, ham and dressing and campers provided side dishes and dessert. This was the first year they had done this and even though it was a small crowd the food was delicious and the dinner was a success. The interesting thing about this campground is that not only do they have RV sites, but they rent boat slips for travelers on the Intercoastal Waterway. While there, there was a boat (or should I say a small ship!) docked...the folks were traveling from Canada to Florida. ...and we found these folks just as friendly as RVers.

We visited Steve's brother Rodger and his wife who live in Garden City - and for the life of me I couldn't tell you where Myrtle Beach ends and Garden City begins. The weather was beautiful and we had a fun time exploring. We checked out Huntington Beach Campground and 2 of the really large campgrounds at Myrtle Beach - Lakewood and Ocean Lakes. While both of these campgrounds provided any amenity you could ask for, I think I would prefer a smaller campground - unless, of course, you're lucky enough to snag an ocean front spot - in which case - Count Me In!

We visited Georgetown, SC, several days and found it to be a quiet, peaceful, little town. It's rich in architectural history, museums, a beautiful Harborwalk, shops and restaurants on Front Street and on and on..... While there on our second day, the shrimp boat had just unloaded and of course we HAD to buy some and they were some of the best, freshest steamed shrimp we'd had in a long time.

We enjoyed the entire week and we hope to return to Georgetown in the future to further explore the area. In the meantime, We hope you will enjoy our pictures.

Bridges and Their Claim to Fame 2018

I thought I would share some of the unique bridges and their claim to fame that I have visited the past several years. I first became interested in little known bridges while in Ohio and discovering the longest and shortest covered bridges in the U.S. were each located within a few miles of where I was staying.

West Liberty Covered Bridge: At 18 feet it has been called the shortest covered bridge in the United States. Location: West Liberty Street across Cowles Creek in Geneva, Ohio. I had a difficult time locating this particular bridge because when viewed from a distance of about one-half mile I thought it was a backyard gazebo!

Smolen-Gulf Covered Bridge: At 613 feet, it is the longest covered bridge in the United States and the fourth longest covered bridge in the world. Location: Ashtabula River at the Plymouth and Ashtabula Township line in northern Ashtabula County, Ohio.

Traveler's Corner

Lake Pontchartrain Causeway: Two parallel bridges crossing Lake Pontchartrain in Louisiana. The longer of the two bridges is 23.83 miles long. The bridge is located between Metairie, Louisiana, a suburb of New Orleans and Mandeville, Louisiana.

According to Wikipedia, since 1969, it was listed by Guinness World Records as the longest bridge over water in the world; in 2011 in response to the opening of the allegedly longer Jiaozhou Bay Bridge in China, Guinness World Records created two categories for bridges over water: continuous and aggregate lengths over water. Lake Pontchartrain Causeway then became the longest bridge over water (continuous) while Jiaozhou Bay Bridge the longest bridge over water (aggregate).

Watson Mill Bridge: Located in Comer, Georgia, Watson Mill Bridge is the longest covered bridge in the state of Georgia. Built in 1885 by Washington (W.W.) King, son of freed slave and famous covered-bridge builder Horace King it is 228.6 feet long and is open to traffic. A word of caution for anyone travelling to Watson Mill State Park; the bridge has a vertical clearance of nine feet and a weight limit of three tons.

Traveler's Corner

Confederation Bridge: The eight mile long Confederation Bridge that links New Brunswick, Canada to Prince Edward Island, Canada is the longest bridge in the world over ice-covered water. There is no toll east bound from New Brunswick to PEI. But be prepared on the return trip. My cost, for 4 axles, leaving PEI was about $55USD.

Kiskatinaw Curved Bridge: The task of the United States Army Corps of Engineers was to build a pioneer road for military traffic from Dawson Creek to Big Delta, Alaska. This meant fording rivers and creeks in the most expedient, if not permanent, way possible. The responsibility for creating a more durable, all season highway fell to civilian contractors who followed closely behind the troops and were coordinated by the United States Public Roads Administration.

Though there were many timber bridges built by these civilian workers, the Kiskatinaw Bridge is the only one still in use. It is also one of the most unusual, curving nine degrees along its 534 foot length. Source: Wikipedia

The bridge is located on the Old Alaska Highway, a short distance from the current Alaska Highway and about 21 miles north of Dawson Creek, BC.

Hartland Bridge: At 1282 feet the longest covered bridge in the world is located in Hartland, New Brunswick, Canada.

Yukon River Bridge: Built in 1974-75 as part of the Alaska Pipeline construction project, the bridge carries both the Dalton Highway and the Alaska Pipeline in connecting Fairbanks with Deadhorse near the Arctic Ocean and the Prudhoe Bay Oil Field. It is the only bridge crossing the Yukon in Alaska. Although difficult to see in the picture, the Alaska Pipeline runs along the side of the bridge.

Yukon River Bridge and APL

Arthur J. Ravenel Bridge: Located in Mt Pleasant, SC., the bridge has a main span of 1,546 feet, the third longest among cable-stayed bridges in the Western Hemisphere.

Badlands, Yellowstone, Grand Tetons & Beyond 7/30/17 4700 miles - 12 states - 56 Days

Illinois - My first stop to meet my 3d great-granddaughter Vanessa born 7/12/17. Visited with my daughter, grandson and his 2 children.

Next stop Minnesota - saw my BFF- Went to the Spam Museum,( Ha, a bucket List) we laughed

PipeStone, MN & learned the art of selfies! Sadly Jane was not able to continue on with me.

South Dakota - Badlands (where the rocks were 67-75 million years old!), Cedar Pass National park CG, Hard to wrap my head around 75 million years!

On to Sioux Falls & famous Wall Drug! Legal speed limit 80 mph! No I did not !!!!!

Pat joined me in Rapid City, SD and then to Hermosa, where we set up base camp to visit Mt. Rushmore, Custer State Park & the Woolly Mammoth Site. We took a beautiful scenic drive on Spearfish and BearTooth highways before leaving that area.

On August 19th, we took the Iron Mountain Road to Mt. Rushmore, where the sign says "17 miles, 315 curves, 14 switchbacks, 3 pigtails, 3 tunnels, 2 splits and 4 Presidents." ...17 miles to over 2 hours to drive!

After Mt. Rushmore, it was on to Montana - we stayed in Garryowen & Boseman, where we soaked in the hot springs.

Then it was down to West Yellowstone MT for a week at Yellowstone National Park, where we watched the solar eclipse from the shores of Yellowstone Lake.

The rangers did a wonderful job managing all the tourists, providing lectures about the eclipse and handing out free eclipse glasses!

Traveler's Corner

On August 25th, we moved to Colter Bay Village, Grand Tetons Natl Park WY, Jackson Hole WY, a float trip on the Snake River & hiking along the creeks and waterfalls. Hidden Falls was quit a hike up.

Our next stop was Lincoln NE where Pat caught a flight back home to tend to her 3 cats. I went on across the states to Escapees Raccoon Valley CG, visiting the Tennessee Arboretum & the Museum of Appalachia.

FYI....Yellowstone National Park includes 2,219,791 acres, 10,000 thermal features, including 2/3 of the world's geysers, bubbling mud pots, boiling hot springs and fumaroles (steam vents). Old Faithful erupts every 74 minutes on the average. Steamboat Geyser is the highest geyser in Yellowstone, shooting 400 ft. high, but at irregular times, so there's no predicting it. There are 290 waterfalls in Yellowstone. In the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone, there are upper and lower falls. The lower falls feature the highest drop of 308 ft.

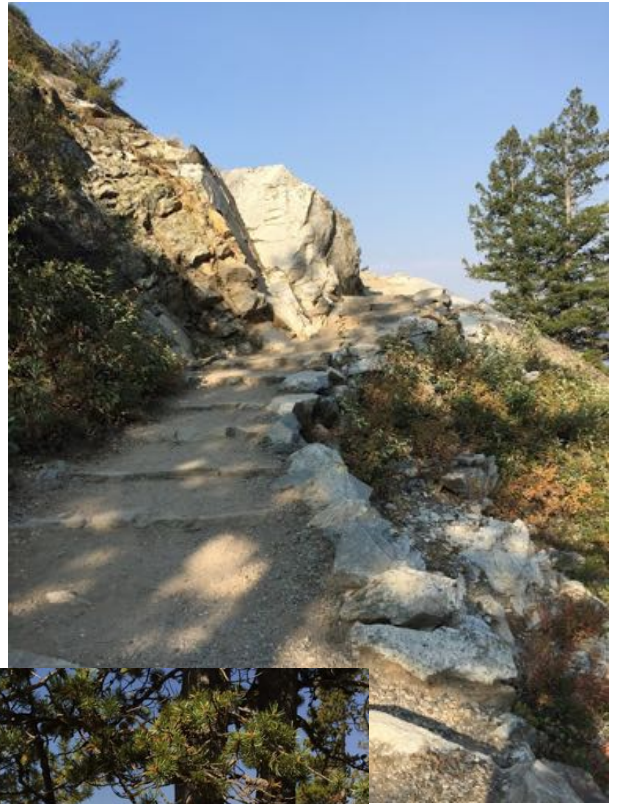

There were so many other stunning sites in the Yellowstone/Grand Tetons area it's hard not to talk about all of them: Bridal Veil Falls, Hidden Falls, Tower Falls, Gibbon Falls, thermal basins, steaming sulphur landscapes, the bison, coyotes, grizzlies, prairie dogs, burros, elk, mountain goats, and pronghorns. While we were aware of the smoke in the parks from the western state wildfires, they did not obscure our view too often. The locals said our timing was just right! Later that week as we were leaving the smoke covered the horizon.

The list overflows my bucket....check that one off.
